Air Show Fundraiser!

This year's air show parking fundraiser was a tremendous success. We earned more money this year than we have ever raised from air show parking. Over the course of two days we parked close to 1,700 cars and took in over $17,000 in donations.

The Lions on hand to help out deserve an extra pat on the back due to the high volume we had this year. Without these people we wouldn't have been able to do it!

Carlo Logiovine	Elena Logiovine	Ted Truver
Shirley Truver	Joe Nemath	Andy Weiss
John Bill	Jules Olita	Larry Glemser
Tara Smith	Jim Doherty	Bob Coyle
Bill Donnelly

We also had three volunteers from the Special Equestrians, as well as one volunteer from a local Girl Scout troop. These four ladies also deserve our thanks.

Our biggest thanks of all goes yet again to Mrs. Janet Hankin, who graciously permits us to park cars on her property year after year. We'd be lost without you, Mrs. Hankin. The effects of your generosity are wide ranging and long lasting.

We also sold over 500 bottles of water and cans of soda at this year's event. We should have thought of this sooner, because we sold out of drinks long before the day was over!

Nobody is certain what the fate of the air base will be. No official can tell us whether this was the last air show or not. We only hope that this is not the last one.

July Birthdays:

New Members!

Three new members of the Horsham Lions Club were inducted during our June 15th meeting!

Elena and Shirley came to us by way of their husbands, Carlo Logiovine and Ted Truver, who are current Lions and also their sponsors. Tara came to know us because her daughter Becky received a scholarship from us last year. She also came to visit us during our recent membership dinner. Tara's sponsor is President Andy Weiss. Pat McDevitt was brought to us via Ted Truver, who will be his sponsor.

Why not come to a meeting and get to know these new members? They've already made their presence known and have good ideas about how to improve the club. The energy they display is very encouraging!

Max Hankin Poetry Corner

MY, HOW SOME ELECTED OFFICIALS CHANGE

When elected to public office
 Why do some personalities change?
 They become sooo important and arrogant
 Isn't it strange?

Some of them let it go
 Straight to their heads,
 And they grasp at every opportunity
 To feather their own beds

They favor phony friends
 And are unfair to the just,
 I suppose it's to return favors,
 So they feel that they must.

Their decisions enrich a few
 Who they think are their friends,
 They are being used, but will be discarded
 When their elected office term ends.

Except for those whom they enriched,
 And promised them they would repay,
 The former official could open up
 A can of worms someday.

Monthly Brain Teaser!

A two-year old toddler fell out of a 20 story building, and landed on the ground.

The child was unhurt.
 How is this possible?

Last Month's Answer:

You're playing Monopoly!

Horsham Day

For the first time ever, we ran TWO vendor tables at this year's Horsham Day. The weather did not cooperate with us, however, and it rained several times during the day. Turnout by the community was light and disappointing.

We sold roast pork sandwiches under the big tent, as well as home made ice cream along the perimeter. Ivan Stoltzfus again came to make the ice cream for us. Sam Braccia again arranged for the roasted pig.

New members Shirley Truver, Elena Logiovine, and Tara Smith were on hand to help out during the day, as well as many other Lions. A volunteer from the local high school, Angela Hu, also came to help us.

No, we did not do nearly as well as we would have liked to, but we did give it our all, and we got to meet the community yet again. Being our second year under the big tent, Horsham will come to expect us to be there next year!

MEETING NOTICE

MARK YOUR CALENDARS!

We are having ONE meeting in July, and ONE meeting in August! Our July meeting will be on the 20th, and we will be hosting this year's four scholarship recipients. Spouses of Lions are invited.

Our August meeting will be on the 17th and will be held at Special Equestrians. Most of you already know where the complex is located. Contact me for directions!

One More Fundraiser!

Summer is always the busiest time of year for the Horsham Lions, and we have one last fundraiser to get through before we can rest.

Our golf outing will be on Monday July 31st. We are teaming this year with the Abington Lions and the Horsham Chamber of Commerce. We always need volunteers, and we also need golfers!
